

I remember Sheikh Nasser with enormous respect. On the occasions when I met him over the years he was always extremely friendly, open and kind, and full of enthusiasm and curiosity. He was one of the great pioneer collectors of Islamic art in modern times and his legacy and that of the incredible collections he built up will be profound and long-lasting.

Marcus Fraser

Former Head of Islamic Department, Sotheby's